

One cloud-connected platform

Manufacturing Automation Platform

Design

Ignite your automation project with precision

MachineBuilder is a powerful CAD design software to simplify the rapid creation and customization of factory equipment. Explore our extensive library of modular components and existing designs to spark your next groundbreaking industrial project.

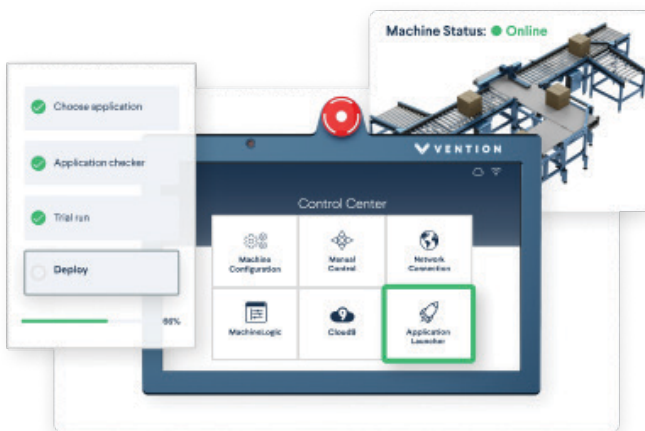

Automate

Unlock effortless programming & seamless simulation

Experience MachineLogic, the quickest and most user-friendly way to program industrial automation sequences. Its robot-agnostic interface caters to all skill levels, offering no-code programming, Python integration, or configuration options, ensuring effortless automation configuration.

Deploy

Initiate automation from the cloud to the factory floor in minutes

MachineCloud utilizes digital twin technology for rapid, step-by-step deployment from the cloud to the factory floor. This meticulous approach guarantees a secure and efficient transition to physical equipment, aligning seamlessly with your operational needs and industry demands.

Operate

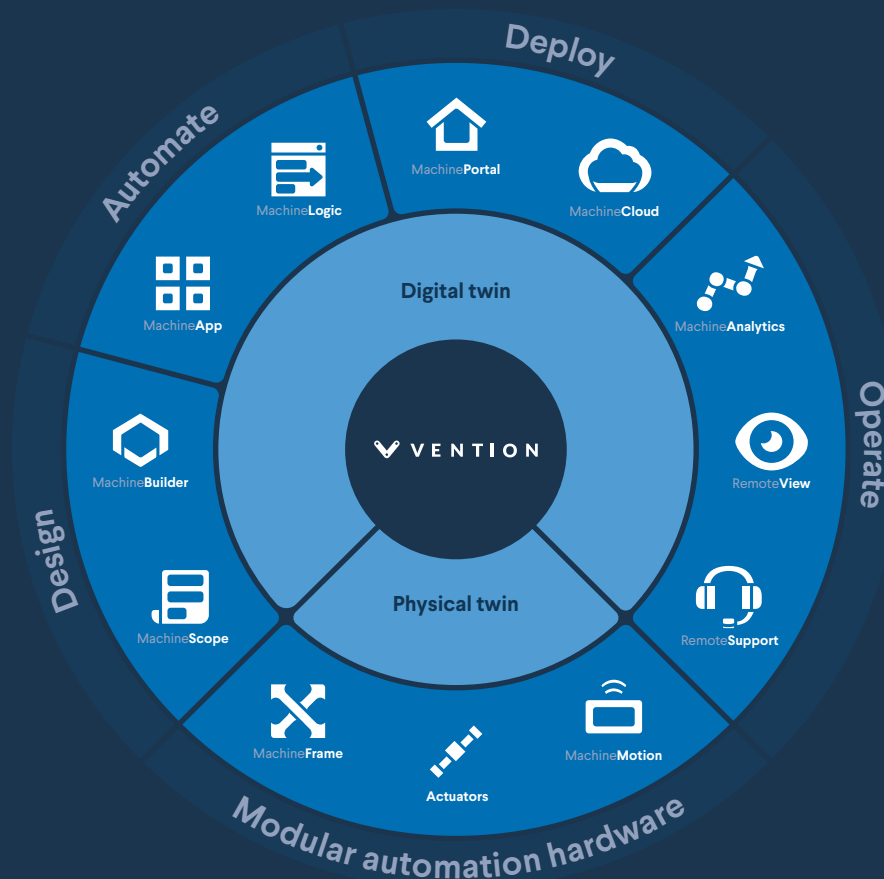

Utilize real-time monitoring and human support

MachineAnalytics grants unparalleled access to real-time insights and historical data to optimize performance. Remote Support ensures seamless deployment and operational support, guiding you throughout.

One ecosystem

Vention's integrated hardware and software ecosystem represents a new approach to industrial automation. The tight integration between modular hardware and powerful software not only removes technology risks from automation projects, but also unlocks simplicity for all manufacturers seeking to jumpstart their automation journey.
